

My Mist Must List

No matter where you are this winter, you need to keep your skin nourished.

SO, being the amazing friend that I am, I'm going to suggest my favourite mists.

Any of these can fit into your purse or gym bag, and you can spray when ever and where ever!

You should already know how much I love Osea Malibu. And you should also know that I use the Sea Minerals spray almost daily. It works as a toner, refresher, and even helps restore sun burned skin. Like swimming in the ocean, minus the sticky salty mess.

Wen by Chaz Dean has, not only, the best quality products, but they all smell incredible too. If you want an aromatherapy experience that'll leave your hair and skin nourished – I suggest Replenishing Treatment Mist in Lavender. I drool every time I smell it.

MIYU Hydrate Mi Beauty Essence is not just a moisturizing mist, but is also a serum in disguise. Prepare for all other products to be boosted when you spray this on your face after cleansing. I keep this in my kit for anyone with super dry skin and it never fails me.

Tata Harper is fucking awesome. I'm a huge fan. Everything smells like a botanical garden on a crisp spring day. The toner I always come back to is Hydrating Floral Essence. Always. My skin tingles and feels tighter and hydrated; ready for the day.

If you fly or are exposed to harsh winters you have to get Repechage Algo Mist Hydrating Seaweed Facial Spray. Comes in travel size, this magical potion relieves withered skin and replenishes fine lines, leaving your face refreshed and glowing.

Say yes to hydration.
